Take a stand

against sexual violence this October

October is Sexual Violence Awareness Month and a time for all Queenslanders to take a stand to say we won't tolerate this violence in our communities any longer, Minister for Women and Prevention of Domestic and Family Violence Shannon Fentiman says.

"Sexual violence can happen to anyone and it's a violation of a person's human rights," Minister Fentiman said.

She said the State Government was committed to preventing and responding to all forms of sexual violence, harassment and abuse.

"We are acting to address sexual violence and promote a culture of respect by strengthening laws against technology facilitated abuse, consent and mistake of fact," she said.
