

COVID-19 ads ready for the big screen!

A series of COVID-19 protection ads filmed in Cape York towns earlier this year has finished production and is due to be shown on NITV and played on radio over the coming months.

In August Apunipima's Dr Mark Wenitong, along with father and son team Robbie Corrie Snr & Jnr came to Pormpuraaw to film community members such as Meredith Arkwookerum, Bernard Foote and Peter Yunkaporta reminding everyone to make sure they followed the current rules around protecting our communities from COVID-19.

"It's important to communicate this information to all our communities so we will be more alert of the symptoms and risks," CEO Ganthi Kuppusamy said.

"This is a great initiative from the Apunipima team and we are all looking forward to seeing our community on the television soon."
