PAM MONGTHAK
ABORIGINAL CORPORATION
Free Training !!!

"Conflict is a normal part of everyday life at home, work and in community. How we manage conflict determines whether the outcome is positive or negative" (Micheal Quinn).

This workshop will help you understand conflict and equip you to deal with it effectively.

WHO	WHEN	WHERE
This workshop is for any staff member, volunteer or community member that would like to learn more about: - What good conflict is - What bad conflict is - What happens in a person when they get angry - The role of the peacekeeper - What skills are required to help keep the peace - The peace keeping process	 Training today from 1pm-5pm Training Wednesday to Friday from 10am-2pm	 Rise Training Room

Please contact the PNPM office or any one of our facilities/programs to book your spot.

You will receive a workbook and certificate of attendance.

Building stronger families, workplaces and communities through understanding, respect and peaceful resolution.
