

PORMPUR PAANTHU NEWS WEEK

Issue 71: 20 September 2021

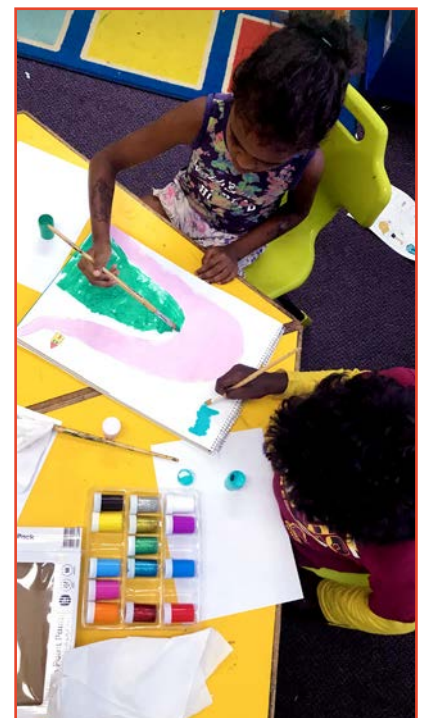

Working with our Social & Emotional Wellbeing team, Grades 1 and 2 students at Pormpuraaw State School produced some artwork for National Child Protection Week in early September – and their work has been published online.

The work was accepted by organisers, the National Association for Prevention of Child abuse and Neglect (NAPCAN), and is currently being showcased on the website.

The kids at school were very excited to see their work being published.

NAPCAN has also asked us to include our response to their art activity on a video – which is great news!

The artwork can be seen at <https://www.napcan.org.au/art-activity/>

Farewell to Erica & Robert

Counsellor Robert English and National Disability Insurance Scheme, and Family Well Being coordinator Erica Lee Cheu finished their work with PPAC last week.

“I’d just like to say too on a personal note that Erica and I have both felt very privileged to be able to be a part of so many wonderful people’s lives,” Robert said.

“We will miss Pormpuraaw.

“We will miss walking down Yalu Street to and from work each day.

“We will miss going down to Front Beach, Chapman and Mungkun.

“We will miss all the people who smile, wave, say hello and join in on our programs and activities, and we are very grateful to have had you all be part of our lives.

“Thank you all for the lessons taught, the time given, and the care shown.”

Robert and Erica will be taking a well-earned break, travelling around as much of Australia as they can over the coming months.
